

Boat Races

Boat racing on the Great Lakes is a favorite summer sport. High-powered speed boats and world-class sailboats from around the world compete in races on the Lakes. The oldest freshwater sailing race in the world is on Lake Michigan. The race is almost 300 miles from Chicago, Illinois, to Mackinac Island, Michigan.

Dragon boat racers paddle boats that look like dragons.
Color the dragon boat that's different from the rest.

