Regional books are profitable

Statistically speaking, regional books have extremely low return rates and high customer satisfaction. To put it simply, AdventureKEEN creates products that customers want. So you get to spend more time selling and less time worrying about slow-moving items on your shelves. Regional books succeed by providing specific information to each market about its own area. We publish books about the birds, parks, trees, and hikes in your town. Those are grassroots winners!

Regional books are often quiet best-sellers. These titles routinely yield four, five, or six turns per year. That favorably stands up to or exceeds every other category. It's nice to have easy, obvious, low-maintenance books that sell and sell and sell by themselves.

Regional books give independent stores a way to highlight the fact that, yes, you are local. The presence of regional titles tells customers that you're plugged in to what they care about in your community. Every connection you make is another potential customer. Regional books provide opportunities to make such connections by providing a sense of place and by celebrating the local environment. When passersby see your regional titles on display, they stop and browse—the first step toward becoming your loyal customers.

Convenient browsing

With AdventureKEEN's new catalog, browsing is easier than ever! Start by checking the WHAT'S NEW section. Then page through the NATIONAL selection. From there, jump to your REGION (such as Midwest). Finally, look at the titles for your STATE. For a downloadable digital version of this catalog, visit us at advkeen.co/catalog.

About AdventureKEEN

AdventureKEEN is an independent publisher of nature and outdoor-activity books. Our company's founding dates back more than 40 years, guided then and now by our love of being in the woods and on the water, by our passion for reading, and by the senses of wonder and discovery that come from spending time outdoors in beautiful places.

It is our mission to share that wonder and the many opportunities for fun with our readers, especially with those who haven't yet experienced all the physical and mental-health benefits that nature and outdoor activity can bring.

In addition, we strive to teach others about recreating responsibly, so the natural resources and habitats that we cherish and rely upon will be available for future generations to enjoy.

We are a small team, deeply rooted in the places we live and work. We have been shaped by our communities—primarily Birmingham, Alabama; Cambridge, Minnesota; and Cincinnati, Ohio. Drawing upon our staff's decades of experience and our awareness of the industry, the marketplace, and the world at large, we have shaped a unique vision and mission for a company that serves our readers, our authors, and the environment.

We hope to meet you out on the trail some day. Until then, if you wish to contact us, please reach out any time.

Poachers Caught!

TOM CHAPIN, HAL RIME

Two conservation officers attempt to chase down a motorboat in their canoe. A married couple illegally catches more than 60,000 crappies over a 12-year span. A duo of poachers run over Tom Chapin's motorbike—and nearly kill him in the process. As a Minnesota game warden, Tom investigated hundreds of harrowing and exhilarating cases. In the Poachers Caught! series, he shares his most memorable ones with you.

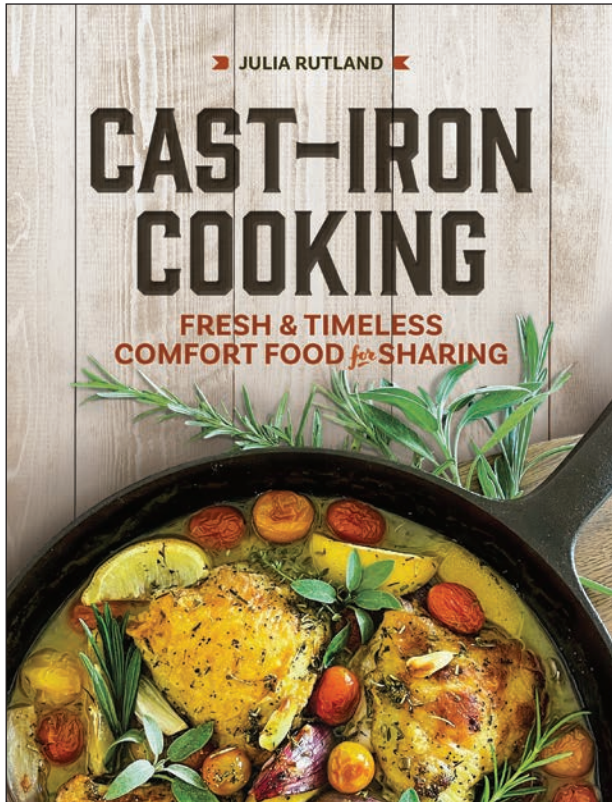

Throughout his career, Tom wrote daily reports and took photos to enhance his records. So the stories are as realistic and factual as possible. Experience each riveting encounter as if you were there.

The tales of true crime are action-packed, shocking, and wildly entertaining. They appeal to anyone with an interest in hunting, fishing, and law enforcement, as well as anyone who's concerned about the protection of our natural resources. Tom's writing serves as a tool for educating people about poaching and for promoting ethics in nature. It also yields a heightened appreciation for the wildlife officers who protect our fish and wildlife resources.

CARY J. GRIFFITH

Award-winning author Cary J. Griffith grew up in eastern Iowa. His childhood fostered a love of wild places. Cary's books explore the natural world. In nonfiction, he covers the borderlands between civilization and wild places. In fiction, he focuses on the ways some people use flora and fauna to commit crimes, while others with more reverence for the natural world leverage their knowledge to bring criminals to justice. In both genres, readers are likely to learn something about our relationship to the natural world and the creatures that inhabit it.

Rattlesnake Bluff

A Sam Rivers Mystery

CARY J. GRIFFITH

The appearance of a rattlesnake wouldn't normally be enough to halt construction on an upscale housing development in Southeast Minnesota's bluff country. But this is no ordinary reptile; it's a rare eastern massasauga rattlesnake (EMR). The endangered snake has not been seen in the region for decades, so Sam Rivers is called in. As a special agent of the US Fish and Wildlife Service, Sam takes his responsibilities seriously—especially when it comes to protecting endangered species. If he finds EMR dens on the construction site, he'll close it permanently.

While the developers protest, Sam enlists the help of herpetologist Gina Larkspur. Together, they begin to find anomalies that call the entire situation into question. When Sam's wolfdog, Gray, tries to sniff out the EMR dens, it isn't rattlesnakes he finds. Instead, Gray discovers the remnants of a terrible, 25-year-old crime. Were the endangered species merely pawns in a diabolical cover-up? As Sam searches for the truth, bodies begin to pile up. He and his team must race to find answers before more innocents die.

JANUARY Featured Constellations
Numbers under star names represent light years.

ORION The Hunter
BACKGROUND/WHY? In my opinion, Orion is the best constellation. It's the centerpiece of the wonderful group of winter constellations that I call "Orion and His Gang." According to Greek mythology, Orion was a mighty nuclear hunter. In one of the many warring tales about his death, he was killed in a battle with a scorpion sent by the god Apollo. Apollo was angry that Orion and his sister Artemis, the goddess of the moon, had fallen in love. After his death, Artemis hid his body placed in the stars.

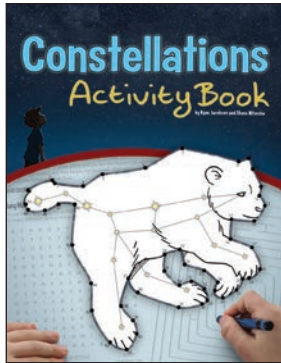

RESEARCHER NOTES: The three stars that make up Orion's belt are the constellation's beltline. Rigel is the constellation's brightest star and marks Orion's left knee. Orion's second-brightest star, Betelgeuse, represents the stump of the mighty hunter. Betelgeuse is a gargantuan star that regularly swells out to nearly a billion miles in diameter. Before Orion's fall, the three main stars in a line that make up the hunter's shaft. The middle "star" is fuzzy to the naked eye because it's actually a huge cloud of hydrogen gas where stars are being born, called a nebula. Technically referred to as M42, it's a must-see with a small telescope; you'll see four medium stars arranged in a trapezoid. These stars are so bright that they light up the surrounding hydrogen gas like a neon light.

LEPUS The Rabbit
BACKGROUND/WHY? There are many mythological stories about Lepus. The one I like best is the story about how Lepus is not only elusive but constantly harasses and plays dirty tricks on Orion, the Hunter.

RESEARCHER NOTES: It's pronounced Lee-pus—what a great name for a leaping celestial rabbit. Now, I have to admit that Lepus certainly won't blow you away with its brilliance. It's weak and it's not as hot bright, especially compared with how massive and brilliant Orion is. The truth is most constellations really don't look all that much like what they're supposed to be. Ancient civilizations used their so much smaller tools to help tell their stories. Back then, stories were told by word of mouth, and without any light pollution, you could really see the stars, making it a little easier to stretch the imagination enough to spot constellations like this somewhat random arrangement of stars. Next door to the left of Lepus is the constellation Canis Major. Orion's big hunting dog. It really resembles what it's supposed to, and you can see the big centre in hot pursuit of Lepus, even though you can't see Lepus at all well.

Learn with coloring & activity books

Coloring can help children improve their concentration and creativity, and it can help build fine motor skills while increasing hand strength. The Color and Learn activity books make learning fun for children. Each activity book focuses on a specific region or a specific topic pertaining to the outdoors and nature. Within each 64-page book, a short paragraph of educational text appears on almost every page, paired with a black and white illustration to color, a maze, a word find, a dot-to-dot, or another interactive activity. Priced well below $10, the Color and Learn activity books promise hours of child engagement.

Identify birds in your state

The Birding Children's Books are state-specific field guides designed specifically for children. They utilize a colorful design and an innovative, user-friendly format to make bird identification simple, informative, and fun. Written by award-winning author Stan Tekiela and featuring full-color photography, each book conveniently organizes birds—only species found in that state—by color. When young readers see a bird, they open the book to the correct color grouping, where every species gets a full-color photograph with a corresponding full-page description. As an added bonus, each book includes activities for the whole family, like building a birdhouse and preparing your own bird food.
