Regional books are profitable

Statistically speaking, regional books have extremely low return rates and high customer satisfaction. To put it simply, AdventureKEEN creates products that customers want. So you get to spend more time selling and less time worrying about slow-moving items on your shelves. Regional books succeed by providing specific information to each market about its own area. We publish books about the birds, parks, trees, and hikes in your town. Those are grassroots winners!

Regional books are often quiet best-sellers. These titles routinely yield four, five, or six turns per year. That favorably stands up to or exceeds every other category. It's nice to have easy, obvious, low-maintenance books that sell and sell and sell by themselves.

Regional books give independent stores a way to highlight the fact that, yes, you are local. The presence of regional titles tells customers that you're plugged in to what they care about in your community. Every connection you make is another potential customer. Regional books provide opportunities to make such connections by providing a sense of place and by celebrating the local environment. When passersby see your regional titles on display, they stop and browse—the first step toward becoming your loyal customers.

Convenient browsing

With AdventureKEEN's new catalog, browsing is easier than ever! Start by checking the WHAT'S NEW section. Then page through the NATIONAL selection. From there, jump to your REGION (such as Midwest). Finally, look at the titles for your STATE. For a downloadable digital version of this catalog, visit advkeen.co/catalog.

About AdventureKEEN

AdventureKEEN is an independent publisher of nature and outdoor-activity books. Our company's founding dates back more than 40 years, guided then and now by our love of being in the woods and on the water, by our passion for reading, and by the senses of wonder and discovery that come from spending time outdoors in beautiful places.

It is our mission to share that wonder and the many opportunities for fun with our readers, especially with those who haven't yet experienced all the physical and mental-health benefits that nature and outdoor activity can bring.

In addition, we strive to teach others about recreating responsibly, so the natural resources and habitats that we cherish and rely upon will be available for future generations to enjoy.

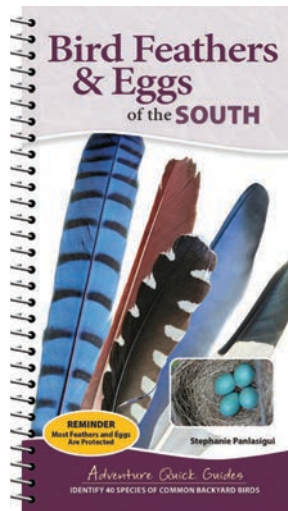

We are a small team, deeply rooted in the places we live and work. We have been shaped by our communities—primarily Birmingham, Alabama; Cambridge, Minnesota; and Cincinnati, Ohio. Drawing upon our staff's decades of experience and our awareness of the industry, the marketplace, and the world at large, we have shaped a unique vision and mission for a company that serves our readers, our authors, and the environment.

We hope to meet you out on the trail some day. Until then, if you wish to contact us, please reach out any time.

You might recognize Brian Latimer as a professional angler and online personality, but he also loves to share his passion for fishing with the next generation! In Brian Latimer's Bass Fishing Activity Book, children can explore the basics of bass fishing—from learning about popular fish species to discovering famous lakes and understanding simple knots and gear. Along the way, they'll enjoy mazes, crosswords, word finds, and illustrations to color—featuring fish, boats, lures, and a variety of outdoor settings. This activity book educates and inspires future anglers and nature lovers. With Brian as their guide, young readers will discover how accessible and exciting casting a line can be.

Black & Brown Faces in America's Wild Places, 2nd Edition

DUDLEY EDMONDSON

During his travels as a wildlife photographer, Dudley Edmondson made a concerning observation: He was the only person of color in many of the wilderness locations. He decided to seek out people of color who thrive in the outdoors and ask them about their experiences, passions, and hopes for the future. The compilation of his interviews became this groundbreaking book, now celebrating its 20th Anniversary.

A Season on the Drink

PAT HARRIS

Marty's fast-pitch softball team is far from typical. He and his unlikely teammates represent the Residence, a haven for chronic alcoholics—where forgotten men, written off by society, drown in their addictions. Yet they find something worth fighting for on a dusty Minnesota baseball diamond: their dignity. Based on a true story, this novel chronicles the underdog team's incredible run. It's a story of addiction, friendship, and resilience that transcends traditional sports literature.

WHIRLPOOL GALAXY (MESSIER 51)

BEAUTY: ★★★

DRAGGING FEET: A beautiful sight

NOW EASY IS IT TO SEE? Telescope required

BEST TIME TO SEE IT: Spring (in Carles Venafici)

TYPES: Galaxy

DISCOVERED: 1773 by Charles Messier

NOTES

Imagine a TV series like Downton Abbey featuring not the fictional Earl of Grantham, but the real Earl of Rosse, William Parsons. Lord Rosse was an amateur astronomer who had the means to build successively larger and larger telescopes. His ultimate creation was the Leviathan of Parsonstown, a 60-foot-long, 6-foot-diameter reflecting telescope housed in a 3-story castle. It was the largest telescope in the world for more than 70 years. Such a TV series would follow Lord Rosse in his attempt to uncover the true nature of nebulae. Were they gigantic gas clouds in the process of forming new star systems? Or were they—as Lord Rosse believed—vast stellar clusters, so far away that individual stars could not be seen? Would Lord Rosse be able to prove his theories to the skeptical astronomical community? Or would his quaint ideas ostracize him from his scientific peers? With his Leviathan, Rosse stared at Messier 51, a nebula near the Big Dipper, and discovered its spiral form: his drawing of the “Whirlpool” closely matches modern astrophotographs. But his painstaking studies were not able to resolve the fundamental question. Many years later, using instruments unknown to the nineteenth-century astronomer, Rosse discovered that Lord Rosse was both right and wrong: some nebulae, like the Orion Nebula, are luminous gas clouds in the process of forming new stars. But others, including the spiral Messier 51, are indeed unimaginably distant clusters of stars. These “island universes” were far more numerous than Lord Rosse ever imagined, and their study ultimately revealed how the universe came to be.

OBSERVING TIPS

At the Handle of the Dipper. Start your search for M51 at Eta Ursae Majoris, the star on the end of the Big Dipper’s handle. Move about 3 degrees in a line toward Beta Canum Venaborum (see chart) and you should run into it.

Double Core. With a small telescope pointed at M51, you might notice two distinct fuzzy objects. The larger object is the core of M51, while the smaller one is a companion galaxy, known as NGC 5195. The latter is orbiting around M51 and was probably once a spiral galaxy too, but its closer encounter with the larger M51 has disrupted it.

Clear Skies and Lots of Aperture. Don’t expect to see spiral arms unless you have a large telescope (12” and greater) and very clear skies. A star party or a local college observatory is your best bet to see this faint galaxy in all its glory.

Learn with coloring & activity books

Coloring can help children improve their concentration and creativity, and it can help build fine motor skills while increasing hand strength. The Color and Learn activity books make learning fun for children. Each activity book focuses on a specific region or a specific topic pertaining to the outdoors and nature. Within each 64-page book, a short paragraph of educational text appears on almost every page, paired with a black and white illustration to color, a maze, a word find, a dot-to-dot, or another interactive activity. Priced well below $10, the Color and Learn activity books promise hours of child engagement.

Saturn V

Launch Module: This module landed on the moon.

Command and Service Modules: These carried the astronauts back to Earth.

Third Stage: This section boosted the rocket into orbit around the moon.

Second Stage: This section was 81 feet tall. It boosted the rocket to 114 miles up before detaching.

First Stage: This section was 139 feet tall. It boosted the rocket to 38 miles up before detaching.

The Saturn V (called the "Saturn Five") was the tallest and heaviest rocket ever built. It carried Apollo astronauts to the moon. To get astronauts there, the rocket needed three stages, each with its own engines. The actual Apollo spacecraft was perched at the top and was pretty small.

At 360 feet tall and 5 million pounds, the Saturn V was as long as a football field and as heavy as 385 elephants!
